

Stories section

The 404 editorial committee invites you to participate in the next edition of our web magazine. Below are some guidelines to follow for the Stories section:

- Anyone wishing to contribute to the Stories section is invited to recount their personal experience (written, audio or video). Please note that 404 is committed to respecting the anonymity of anyone who does not want to reveal their identity to readers. Contributors to 404 may remain anonymous at their discretion.
- Your text must pertain to the issue's main theme: Second chance.
- Please submit your text (final version) to this link or via the form on the page.
- To ensure that our platform promotes inclusion and respect for others, 404 asks our contributors to comply with certain ethical guidelines. Please read our ethical guidelines carefully.
- If you do not want to remain anonymous, in addition, please forward basic information about yourself: full name (or nickname – see below for more details) and reason for becoming involved in the project.

If you prefer to use a pseudonym, you must comply with the following rules:

- You may not take someone else's identity or use a pseudonym that derides another person or legal entity.
- Pseudonyms that are racist, xenophobic, sexist, ageist, homophobic or sexual in nature will not be accepted.
